Program now extended till March 2020!

Getting your drivers licences	Getting your learners licence	Getting your New Licences

Getting your drivers licences takes a lot of work and several steps.	To get your learners licences you will have to get at least 40/50 on your multiple-choice knowledge test.	To get an N (novice) you need to have your L for at least 12 months and pass the class 7 road test.
Getting your full licences	Dangers of driving	Congratulations

To get your full drivers licence you have to have your N for two years of safe driving and pass the class 5 road test. Now you are able to drive wherever you want and who ever you want!	There are many dangers of driving, car crashes are the number 1 death of teens in Canada. Even if you're not driving make sure the person who is driving is not intoxicated and is a safe driver.	Congratulations! You have now learnt the steps to get your drivers licence and the dangers of driving.
