

Beaver and Dams Removal

Beavers were once the staple fur trading economy of North America, used to make top hats for the high society of Europe

Today, the Ministry of Transportation and other Provincial agencies and private industry companies consider beaver to be pest or nuisance animals and issue permits for their removal

The McLeod Lake Indian Band Land Stewardship department receive permit applications throughout the year for removal of dams and removal of beaver...

If you are an avid hunter or trapper and would like to be notified of these permit applications and you would like to know the locations for these requests, contact the Chetwynd office to put your name on a list and we will notify you when we receive the information

Thank you for taking the time to review this correspondence
