

Hello,

I'm reaching out to share with you information about opportunities that may be of interest to your students, trainees, and job seekers. I'm enjoying the pleasure this week of congratulating students from across Northern BC who were selected for TC Energy Scholarships. Thank you for helping to share the information about Scholarships with your students. TC Energy Scholarships program was able to make 12 awards to students from Northern BC in 2023.

This October, UNBC has a deadline of October 14th for the Coastal GasLink Community Development Award. This award is available to students attending any academic program at UNBC. Your students can find the award in the student portal by logging in to myUNBC, or by contacting the Financial Aid and Awards office at UNBC. In addition to the scholarships available for students attending academic programs at UNBC, we also have some funds set aside in our agreement with UNBC to support students attending Continuing Studies programs at UNBC. Please feel free to put students in touch with me for more information.

Below, I would also like to share links to current opportunities for your communities members to connect to employment opportunities. The first link is an "evergreen" posting that provides an opportunity for Indigenous candidates to set up a profile and receive updates on employment postings. The profiles are monitored by a specific Talent Acquisition specialist that is focused on working with Indigenous candidates. The second posting is a current opening for a Field Compliance Specialist located in Prince George, and the third is Summer Student opportunities.
